

Barrel Policy

1. All barrel trials require payment for each barrel sent. (Example: If you want to try three barrels, you would purchase all three barrels for the trial period)
2. Trial period consists of 7 days upon arrival. You are responsible for return shipping and/or any PayPal transaction fees of the barrels you do not purchase. (Example: three barrels are sent out. You keep one and send the other two back. You would pay the return shipping and PayPal fees for the refund on these two barrels).
3. All barrels will be inspected before refund is issued. If damage of any kind is found on the returned barrels, refund will not be given for the damaged barrel. You can choose to keep the barrel by paying for return shipping back to you.
4. If barrel does not fit your joint, do not force the barrel onto the joint because this can cause cracking.
5. If you just purchase one barrel, I will select one barrel to send to you. If your instrument is in the shop for maintenance, I can pair a barrel to your own horn in the finalization stage for an additional $25 fee. This fee includes any fitting that is necessary.
6. Shipping charges are a flat $15 via FedEx.
